

April 30, 2009

To Whom It May Concern:

"Signature Lighting"

Electrical contracting is one of the primary functions of Property Management and plays an important role in the safety of our centre. We require our electrical contractor to ensure that all electrical components of each of our centres are safe, dependable and maintained to the highest standards.

Signature Lighting has been providing that service to me for over 6 years, and we rely on their expertise 24x7. They have proven to be a reliable and trustworthy component of the overall property management experience.

Their attention to detail, fast response times and expert knowledge has provided us with a sense of security required in a very challenging environment.

I can confidently recommend Signature Lighting as a solid and reliable asset to any centre.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read "Debora Heath", is written in a cursive style.

Debora Heath

Property Manager